Two levels of individual membership? YES! All certified practitioners are now Standard members in the ICML family—automatically, and at no cost—as long as certification remains current. Standard members enjoy a discounted eLibrary option and selected complimentary benefits with partner groups. They can also upgrade to Premier level to unlock exam credits and gain a seat on our Lubrication Experts Panel...

Executive Director Leslie Fish describes it all in this two-minute video.

Guest Author: MLA credential saves a client relationship

This short, impressive story demonstrates the positive impact of value-added service that creates long-lasting goodwill. Guest Author Jay Zaffino explains how the authoritative presence of his MLA II certification provided an opportunity to help a corporate customer make a high-dollar business decision...

The ICML eLibrary is the definitive resource of lubrication-related books, journals, and media—including ICML 55® Standard series. Anyone can subscribe, but our members enjoy a substantial annual discount.

"I was thrilled to see the amount and depth of information available."

— Gary Wood, District Manager NE at HF Sinclair

Premier members are subscribed automatically, so they can start accessing practical, helpful content right away.

Seeking contributors for upcoming ICML Magazine Published by River Publishers

The inaugural issue of ICML's Lubrication Magazine will soon be a reality. With contributions from ICML members in the field, this quarterly digital magazine will focus on news, trends, technical developments, and best practices. It will live in the ICML eLibrary, and it will also be available in 7x10 print format. Advertising opportunities will be offered, of course. Click the button to recommend contributors for future issues.

Coming Soon: New online exam platform

During October ICML will improve its online test-taker experience with a new exam platform powered by Meazure Learning. This platform will simplify the identity verification process, giving more control to test-takers during camera scans while preserving exam integrity. Also, a helpful chat tool will reduce language barrier issues. Watch for more information in coming weeks.
