

ICML Premier Individual Membership Application Form

ICML invites you to support its endeavors to promote excellence in the machinery lubrication industry by becoming a Premier Member today.

A premier member is an individual who wants to support and benefit from ICML's worldwide initiatives through a USD $100 or $140 annual package. ICML certification is not necessary to hold this membership.

The International Council for Machinery Lubrication continuously seeks individual members who wish to help support our mission while enjoying special benefits of their own. Benefits of Premier Membership include a $50 exam credit, recognition on ICML's website, inclusion in the Lubrication Experts Panel*, selected third-party benefits, and use of our "Premier Member" logo. See more at <https://info.lubecouncil.org/membership/>. (*The Lubrication Experts Panel is the community of field experts that we quote for press releases and contact periodically for team articles, panels, conference presentations, and webinars.)

Discounted three-year membership option conveniently aligns with your ICML certification.

Your individual involvement with ICML can help advance you in the broader machinery lubrication community!
